Many Exposition Honors Won By County Showmen

Lancaster County exhibitors carried off many trophies at the seventh annual Pennsylvania Livestock Exposition this week.

The biggest wins came in the steer show where Eugene Hosler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Hosler Manheim R3, showed his steer "Champy" to the grand championship of the junior show and wen on to garner the reserve championship in the open class competition.

Mae Mast, Elverson R2, placed her Hereford in the runnerup spot of the junior division of the show, but was eliminated in the final round when judge Don L. Good put the grand championship banner on the Hereford entry of Portage Farms, Woodville, Ohio

The only other grand championship ribbon won by a county exhibitor was in the sheep division where Green Meadows Farms, Leola R1, showed the top animal in the Hampshire bred ewe sale.

The portage farms win on Tuesday cut off Lancaster County's chance of capturing its third Champion-steer-of-the-show title. On Monday, Hosler had topped the field of 128 4-H and FFA entries with his 1,070 pound 4-H project and went on to engage in an exciting seven minute battle with the open class champion for the purple and gold banner.

Judge Good, a Kansas State University professor, said the Hosler Angus had better covering than the champion, but he lacked thickness in the lower quarters. The steer was bred by Neidig Brothers, State College.

In the junior show, a second member of the Mast family, Wesley, showed the reserve champion Hereford.

The yearling ewe entered by Green Meadows was shown by Edward Hess. She was sired by the farm's 1957 grand champion at the International Livestock Show in Chicago.

Penna. Y.F.A. Convention Is Next Week

The six regions of Pennsylvania will name their outstanding young farmers November 20 during the annual convention of the Pennsylvania Young Farmers Association at The Pennsylvania State University. Headquarters will be the Hetzel Union Building on the campus.

Trophies for the six regional winners and the outstanding young farmer of the State will be presented by James C. Fink, associate advisor from the Department of Public Instruction, Harrisburg.

Convention speaker will be Leland H. Bull, Secretary of Agriculture for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Afternoon panel and discussion groups will be led by various chapters. Manheim and New Holland chapters will be responsible for discussions of "Marketing."

The Young Farmers Association will display its official and newly-developed banner at the convention.

Holstein Club Golden Anniversary To Feature Talk By Dr. Goddard

Three speakers, one of them Dr. Maurice K Goddard, State Secretary of Forest and Waters, were named today for the Pennsylvania Holstein Association Golden Anniversary Convention, November 21 and 22 in the Host Motel, Lititz Pike.

DR. GODDARD

E. W. Newlin, Grantville, General Chairman, said Dr. Goddard will address the convention banquet Friday evening, November 22. Penn State University Dairy Extension Head, Joe S. Taylor, will preside.

State Secretary of Agriculture, Leland H. Bull will address the convention breakfast program the same date. Association members and guests will hear Arthur B. Morgan, New Holland Machine Company Sales Manager, during

Local Man Is Elected By State Farmers Ass'n

Harold G. Rohrer, 1623 Book Road, Lancaster, was one of three new directors elected this week at the closing session of the Pennsylvania Farmers Association in York.

Rohrer, president of the Lancaster County Farmers Association, joined Howard VanTassel, Corry R2, and Donald Unangst on the board.

Earlier in the week other countians were honored by the association for aiding in the growth of the organization. Jacob Hoover, Gap R1, and Charles Ressler, Holtwood R2, were guests at a Luncheon Tuesday at the Hotel Yorktowne, along with other former directors from 20 counties.

James Ewart, Peach Bottom R2, was awarded a certificate in recognition of progressive individuals and firms which have utilized the Farm Business Management Analysis Service for five or more years.

President G. A. Biggs cautioned the membership Monday to watch that their rights as private property owners are not infringed upon by Project 70.

County Dairymen On Committees For Inter-State Co-op Convention

Two area men are on committees for the 28th annual meeting of the Inter-State Milk Producers' Cooperative November 21 and 22 at the Ben Franklin Hotel, Philadelphia.

Dr. Samuel A Dum, East Petersburg, is a member of the resolutions committee representing producers in the states of Pennsylvania, Maryland, New Jersey, Delaware, and West Virginia.

William A. Reid, Oxford, is a member of the Annual Meeting committee and is a member of the board of directors. His term will expire this year.

President of the cooperative, F. Bennett Carter, Centerville, Md., said this week 122 delegates are scheduled to attend the two-day event and vote on issues involving milk marketing procedure.

The Inter-State Cooperative has more than 4,000 dairy farmer members, divided into 23 Districts, which in turn are subdivided into 97 Locals. The number of delegates from each area depends on the number of members.

The meeting in the Benjamin Franklin Hotel will open

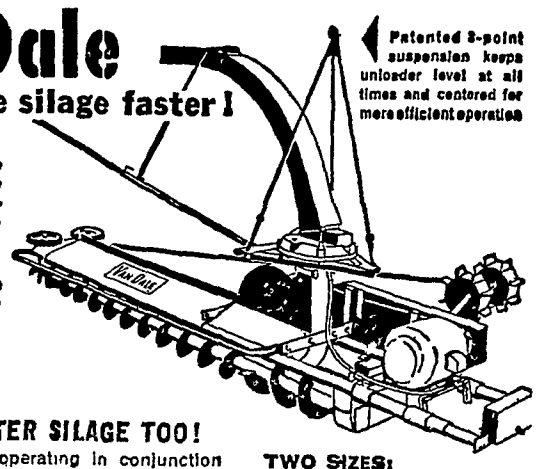
Get the BIG silo unloader value!

VanDale
Delivers more silage faster!



Patented 3-point suspension keeps unloader level at all times and centered for more efficient operation

- Double auger system digs the silage faster and more evenly under all conditions whether silage is frozen, wet, or dry.
- Exclusive, adjustable drive hub gives more positive traction, keeps the machine operating evenly, and requires less power.

DELIVERS BETTER SILAGE TOO!
The double augers, operating in conjunction with the patented V-paddle impellers, digs the silage, mixes it thoroughly, and then throws it down the chute! Your cows and cattle get good, palatable silage . . . not a powdered mash as so often happens with unloaders using blowers.

TWO SIZES:
Standard—for silos 10' to 18'
Heavy Duty—for silos 12' to 30'

● Delmarva

Live Prices Continue Down

Live broiler prices in Delmarva declined approximately three quarters of a cent during the 24 hour period ending 10:30 Friday morning.

Live broiler prices at farms ranged 15.7 to 17.3 for 704,700 head including 390,700 head sold at Thursday's Selbyville, Del. auction. Only one per cent of the sales were at 17.3.

Demad was fair for the light auction offerings. Ready to cook demand was fair with much interest shifted to other holiday items for next week.

Estimated slaughter for the week end by eastern shore processors was 583,000 head compared to the 638,000 head last week end.

The Delmarva broiler-feed ratio for the week ending November 8 was steady with the previous week at 3.3. Broilers during the week averaged 16.31 per pound and mash cost the grower $99.17 per ton.

From Where We Stand . . .

Something For Nothing Is No Good

Any time you get something for nothing, it can't be very good.

Many people subscribe to this philosophy, and most of the time we do too.

But unfortunately many Pennsylvanians this week missed out on a good show that would have cost them nothing but a drive to Harrisburg.

The demonstrations and polo games in the large arena at the annual Pennsylvania Livestock Exposition combined to make the finest show of its kind we have seen in many a day.

When we talked about our plans to go to one of the evening performances, a friend (remembering the crowds at the evening shows at Farm Show time) told us to be sure to get there early in order to get a seat. We needn't have hurried!

When we walked into the seating area at a quarter to seven, there were more people in the arena than there were in the seats. At times the performers almost outnumbered the spectators, but be it said to their credit, the performers put everything they had into the exhibitions.

We couldn't help wondering if more people would have been there if an entrance fee had been charged.

We realize that the exposition is billed as an educational event, and we believe this is a worthy goal, but we have often paid a five dollar bill to see a show not half as entertaining.

We believe the rules governing the Livestock Exposition ought to be reviewed with the thought of amending them to allow charging for the evening shows.

We believe that a nominal fee could be charged, so as not to exclude anyone who really wanted to see the show, and the revenue could be used to advertise the program. We believe that a charge, however small, might help overcome the idea some people have that if you get it for free, it can't be worth very much.

At least that's how it looks from where we stand.

Farm-City Week

It's a safe bet that few observances are given such active and widespread support as Farm-City Week. The officers, advisors and directors come from a very wide gamut of organizations. They represent, to take but a few, the meat packers, major retailers, heavy industry, medicine, the press, civic clubs, broadcasting, and so on and so on.

It is good that this is so. For Farm-City activities serve a purpose which grows steadily more worthwhile. They are designed to bring about a better understanding of the way of life of free men by bringing neighbors together. Nothing promotes misunderstanding like ignorance, and from it comes tensions and jealousies and angers. When new friendships are established, the special problems of various groups are seen in fresh and clear perspective. And individuals get a better view of the part others play in the dynamic functioning of the economy.

Farm-City Week will be observed during the November 22-28 period this year. But the week is only a culmination — the national, state and local Farm-City committees work on a year-round basis. And active interest has grown steadily — last year more than 10,000 U.S. and Canadian communities participated in Farm-City programs. The events are interesting and rewarding — and, often, eye-opening for both urban and rural people, who come to realize their own interdependence.

The 1963 observance will be the Week's ninth. Let's hope it will be the finest and most productive yet.

Creepy Invaders

When the North winds begin to howl a little more fiercely and a chill hangs on the morning air, the squirrels scurry about a little faster in order to fill their larder before the deep snows come. Rabbits start looking around for a likely hole in the ground; birds begin their southward migration, and frogs and turtles take a dive in the mud.

But what do the bugs do? Simple — they move into the nice warm houses along with the people!

Now most of the new residents of your house won't do you much harm unless you just happen to have a natural dislike for crawling things.

Lady beetles, house crickets, cluster flies, wasps, and box elder bugs will invade the premises, but most of them will just wander aimlessly and harmlessly around nooks and crannies. But sometimes those crickets can become voracious critters with terrible table manners. They will attack just about anything around the house — including the house itself.

If you don't care to share your domicile with this buggy rabble, most of them can be controlled with the common insecticides. However, the lady beetle, while she may walk around some, is quiet and doesn't eat much, and that is mostly other bugs.

The house cricket (that's a cricket that got in the house) is a rascally fellow who eats most any fabric, and in large quantities. In fact, about the only thing in his favor is his built-in temperature gauge. If you count the number of chirps in 14 seconds and add 40 you will be within one degree of the correct temperature — but if you have a thermometer, you probably aren't interested.

A spray of chlordane around the base of the house will keep the crickets out pretty well and also discourage ants and spiders.

Of course there are those who believe in waiting to shoot until you see the whites of their mosaic eyes, and there are others who believe in live and let live. For those people, all we can do is hope for a shorter winter and an early spring when their six legged guests move back to the wide open spaces.

At least that's how it looks from where we stand.

Writing on Hearts

Lesson for November 17, 1963

Bible Material: Acts 16:10-40, II Corinthians 1 through 4.
Devotional Reading: II Corinthians 4:7-15.

WHAT WAS the greatest single influence in your life? Change that word "was" to "is" and leave out the word "single" if you like. It still is a question to think about. Most people, if they answer that question, would say truthfully that some particular person, perhaps now dead, was the strongest single influence. Or they might mention several names. But they probably would be names, not things. Everyone of us may be at the other end, too. How many lives have known your influence in some way? How many lives would have been different if it had not been for you? These are sobering thoughts.

Dr. Foreman

The fact is, we all are engaged, often without trying or thinking particularly about it, in writing something, good or bad, on the hearts of all we meet. Thinking about us is (for the people we have known) like getting a letter, bitter or gay, serious or silly as the case may be. Somebody else's handwriting is on every heart.

Through us the fragrance

The Christian above all has a responsibility that what he writes on others' hearts shall be recognizably Christian. But what is "Christian"? Paul mentions in the passage chosen for this week three points by which a Christian person, and Christian influence, can be identified. Paul did not mind mixing his metaphors, and neither should we. There is a gloriously many-colored beauty about the Christian character, like an old-fashioned garden First of all, a Christian is one through whom the "fragrance of the knowledge" of Christ spreads everywhere. In plainer English, a Christian is one who does not leave others indifferent to Christ, but whose life makes others want to know the secret of the "fragrance" (Paul's word) of Christ. Second, a Christian is sincere, he is what he claims to be. Third, a Christian is a man of confidence not in himself but in God.

A letter from Christ

Paul was not an over-modest man. If credit was due him, he took it. Yet he never claims too much. Paul knew very well that he was perhaps the one most influential Christian in that part of the Roman empire. He knew he would be remembered all their life long by those converts of his in Corinth and other cities. Yet he does not claim credit for the handwriting on the hearts of those he had won for Christ. Indelible was the writing; but it was not his own. You (he said to his friends) are a letter from Christ, written not with ink, with with the Spirit of the living God.

You do not have to be a theologian to see what Paul is driving at. Every Christian is part of the communication between God and the world. Every Christian, so far as he is Christian (and no one 100%), expresses and makes clear God's will and word for the situations in which he lives. Then is every Christian a sort of little Pope, infallibly able to dictate God's last word in every situation and problem of life?

Delivered by us

Not by any means. Not even the Pope in Rome makes claims so sweeping as all that. We have to face the fact that men who are perhaps equally Christians-by-intention do not always agree, perhaps almost never. Paul says elsewhere that we have this treasure (and he meant the message of God) in earthenware vessels. And about the handwriting of the Spirit on the hearts of the Corinthians, he says it was "delivered by us," and Paul does not claim that he could never be mistaken. The Corinthians, moreover, were themselves farther from perfection than Saint Paul was. The letter of Christ was written on the hearts of men who (on Paul's own showing) were guilty of all sorts of sins. The handwriting of the Spirit gets rubbed down more or less as the letters are passed on. So no Christian's writing on your heart or on your grateful memory should be confused with direct contact with God himself. For every Christian has the same privilege and the same need of the Spirit as the greatest Christians have had. Time and distance may carry our friends far away, but the Spirit is always here. He who wrote, writes still today.

Now Is The Time . . .

BY MAX SMITH

MAX SMITH

To Exercise Milking Herd

Now that winter is just around the corner and milking herds are being kept in at night, the cows should be turned out for exercise at least once a day, when out the cows should be observed for heat periods, lameness, or other illness The time and effort should be rewarded with a thriftier herd and increased production.

To Check For Internal Parasites

Many cattle feeders are feeding too many stomach worms in their beef cattle as well as young dairy animals These internal parasites will reduce gains and increase feeds costs. Producers are urged to consult their local veterinarian to determine the extent and kind of worm infestations; several types of treatments will eradicate the worms and give more profitable returns.

To Practice Strict Sanitation Measures

The disease control program in any livestock or poultry operation should include strict regulations concerning visitors, newly-purchased animals, and owner visits to other herds or public places Service men who go from farm to farm should be extremely careful about entering buildings at other places without a thorough disinfectant operation. Owners should not wear the same shoes or boots at home as they do at sales barns, stock yards, or in other livestock or poultry operations, unless thoroughly disinfected.

To Drench Lambs

With the sheep population on the increase in Lancaster County this enterprise becomes more important. Growers who are feeding lambs are reminded that stomach worms have been one of the major problems in southeastern Pennsylvania. The entire flock should be drenched both spring and fall. Phenothiazine is still a good material for the control of stomach worms.

Agricultural Exports

More than 125 countries of the world take agricultural exports from the United States, reports the Agricultural Marketing Service of the U S. Department of Agriculture However, about 15 countries accounted for 70 percent of our total exports in the fiscal year 1961-62 Major takers were, in this order, Japan, the United Kingdom, Canada, West Germany, and the Netherlands. Total world exports for the period came to well over $5 billion.

ASCS Office Moves From City November 27

As of November 27, the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office will be located at 1466 Manheim Pike, Miss Dorothy Y. Neal, office manager, said this week.

She added, "We feel sure the new location will be of benefit to our farmers The office will be on the first floor, with ample parking space at the rear of the building."

Starting November 27, office hours will be 8 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Miss Neal said the 1964 Agricultural Conservation Program for Lancaster County has been approved and new handbooks will be available in December.

The 1964 Feed grain program is basically the same as 1963, except for a few basic changes. Maximum diversion will be 50 per cent of the feed grain base, and a farmer diverting more than 40 per cent will receive the high payment on all diverted acres. Minimum diversion is still 20 per cent of the base. The first 20 per cent is at the low payment rate and from 20 to 39 per cent at the high rate. If from 40 or 50 per cent of the base is diverted, all will be paid at the high rate.

Price support loans will be available on the total production, and as in 1963, price support payments will be made on the normal production of the crop grown.

Crop Summary

Drought Hinders Growth, Curing

October was one of the driest months on record causing water supplies to dwindle and hindering growth of grasses and fall sown grains according to the Pennsylvania Crop Reporting Service

A long Indian-type Summer prevailed during the month Very little rain during the month caused many streams, wells and reservoirs to go dry. Fall seedings are spotty and many pastures dried up due to lack of rain. (Rain during first part of November alleviated the situation to a great extent) Good drying weather favored the drying of immature corn and permitted rapid progress of fall harvest of corn, potatoes and apples.

Production of corn for grain is estimated at 43.7 million bushels, or 1 percent below last year's poor crop of 44 1 million bushels and 20 percent below the 1957-61 average Early and late freezes combined with drought conditions reduced yields and caused many farmers to divert corn intended for grain into silage The harvesting of corn for silage was completed in early October. Harvesting of corn for grain was favored by sunny, dry weather which permitted corn to dry out rapidly.

HAY AND PASTURE

Lack of rainfall hindered growth of legumes and grasses Some of the growth that did occur was cut and fed as green chop or used as temporary pasture. A number of pasture and hay fields have been grazed too closely and winter damage may be severe.

POTATOES AND TOBACCO

Harvesting of tobacco was about completed by October 1. Proper curing weather was lacking during October. There was plenty of sunshine but not enough moisture for proper curing. Some stripping of tobacco was started at the end of October. Digging of fall potatoes was virtually completed by the end of October. The past month offered some excellent weather for potato harvesting. Tuber size was smaller than usual but quality was good. Yield was better than expected. Yield is estimated at 190 hundredweight per acre.

U. S. CROP REPORT

October weather favored full development and rapid harvest of the major row crops, but doomed many fall pastures and threatened some acreages of fall seeded grains. Corn, sorghum grain, rice and cotton were major crops showing increased prospects on November 1, but continued soil moisture shortages in the South lowered prospects for soybeans and peanuts. Pasture condition was reported as 60 percent of normal - the lowest November condition since 1956. Rains over most of the eastern half of the Nation since November 1 will help fall seeded grains but were too late to aid pastures for the 1963 season except in southern areas. The "all crops" production index remained at the record level of 110, the same as a month earlier.

Ephrata Jaycees Present Steer To Cloister Chapter Future Farmer

THE PROUD WINNER OF AN ANGUS FEEDER CALF is Dick Ritter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ritter, Ephrata R1, center, holding the halter. With Dick are his father, left, and Lee Shober, chairman of the Community Development Committee of the Ephrata Jaycees, donor of the calf.

Dick Ritter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ritter, Ephrata R1, was awarded the first annual Ephrata Junior Chamber of Commerce Baby Beef this week.

Ritter, a 15-year-old sophomore vocational agriculture student at Ephrata High School, won out over all other sophomore and junior members of the Cloister Future Farmers of America Chapter.

He submitted a written application listing why he wanted the steer, a plan and budget for raising the steer, and his plans for the future.

A committee of six Jaycees interviewed each candidate before the winner was named. Lee Shober, Chairman of the Community Development committee of the Ephrata Junior Chamber of Commerce, made the presentation at the Ritter farm.

The steer, named "J C" will be exhibited next September at the Ephrata Fair and later at the Pennsylvania Livestock Exposition.

"J C" was purchased by the Jaycees at the annual Feeder Calf Sale at the Lancaster Stockyards.

Food For The "Unexpected"

By Mrs. Richard C. Spence

In the holiday weeks that lie ahead you are bound to have an extra person occasionally for a meal — Sis brings a friend home from college, a cousin drops in for an unexpected visit, or Dad has a city friend for a hunting partner.

Here are some ideas to help you serve them a delicious meal without spending a lot of time in the kitchen. A main dish casserole and a salad with rolls, dessert and coffee make up a nice menu.

SALMON NOODLE CASSEROLE

- 8 ounces medium noodles
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 2 teaspoons dry mustard
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper
- ⅛ teaspoon nutmeg
- 2 cups milk
- 8 ounce can salmon
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- ¼ cup minced parsley
- 2 tablespoons creamy peanut butter
- ½ cup dry, fine bread crumbs

Cook noodles in boiling salted water until tender, yet firm 4 to 5 minutes Drain Meanwhile, melt butter or margarine in sauce pan. Blend in flour, mustard, salt, pepper and nutmeg to form a smooth paste. Gradually stir in milk and heat to boiling, stirring constantly. Boil one minute. Blend sauce with noodles. Break salmon into 1-inch pieces. Add salmon, lemon juice and parsley to noodle mixture. Mix thoroughly. Turn into greased 2-quart casserole. Cut peanut butter into bread crumbs until consistency of coarse corn meal. Sprinkle evenly over top of noodle mixture. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 20 to 25 minutes, or until heated through and topping is lightly browned. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

BEEF STEW WITH SHELL MACARONI

- 1 pound beef stew meat, cut in 1½ inch pieces
- 1 tablespoon shortening or oil
- ½ cup chopped onion
- 7 cups water
- 1½ teaspoons salt
- ¼ teaspoon oregano
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper
- 1 package dry vegetable soup mix (1¼ to 1¾ ounces)
- 2 cups tomatoes (1 pound can)
- 1½ cups whole kernel corn (1 pound can, drained)
- 8 ounces medium macaroni shells

Brown meat in shortening or oil in Dutch oven. Add onion and brown lightly. Add water, salt, oregano, pepper and soup mix. Simmer gently, uncovered, for 2 hours, or until meat is tender. Add tomatoes and corn and bring to a boil. Add macaroni. Cover and cook about 20 minutes, stirring occasionally, until macaroni is tender, yet firm. (Liquid should be absorbed.) If mixture becomes too dry, add more water. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

For a light lunch hot sandwiches are always a hit.

OPEN-FACED BOILED SANDWICH

- 4 slices cooked chicken
- 4 slices cooked ham
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1 cup milk
- ½ cup cheddar cheese, cubed
- 8 slices bread
- Mayonnaise
- ¼ cup sliced ripe olives

Melt butter in a saucepan. Over low heat slowly blend flour into butter. Gradually stir in the milk. Cook until mixture thickens, about 3 to 5 minutes. Stir the cheese into the sauce Spread 4 slices of bread with mayonnaise and place on a baking sheet Cover each slice of bread with a slice of chicken. Pour 2 tablespoons of the sauce on the chicken. Top each with a slice of ham. Add sliced ripe olives to cheese white sauce and spoon over sandwiches. Place under broiler until cheese sauce bubbles and browns slightly. While the sandwiches broil, toast 4 more slices of bread to be cut diagonally and placed on each side of the sandwich on individual serving plates.

DEVILED CUSTARD SANDWICH

- 2 cans (3 ounces each) deviled ham
- 4 slices pasteurized process cheese
- 8 slices bread
- 1 cup milk
- 1 egg
- ⅛ teaspoon nutmeg
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper

Spread 4 slices of bread with deviled ham and cover each with a slice of cheese. Spread 4 slices of bread with butter. Turn spread side down onto cheese Place sandwiches in a shallow baking dish (9 x 9 x 2 inch). Beat milk and egg together to combine. Add nutmeg, salt and pepper. Pour egg mixture over sandwiches Bake 30 minutes in moderate oven (350 degrees) or until table knife inserted into center comes out clean. To serve, cut between each sandwich and lift out with a spatula onto individual serving plates. Serve with sliced tomato and lettuce salad and for dessert.

chocolate cake.

HAM AND CHEESE DANDY SANDWICHES

- 2 cups shredded process American cheese (8 ounces)
- 1½ cups ground cooked ham (8 ounces)
- ½ cup chopped onion
- ⅓ cup creamy French dressing
- 2 tablespoons prepared mustard
- 4 teaspoons caraway seed
- 8 hamburger buns
- 8 tomato slices (thin)
- Butter or margarine, softened

Combine cheese, ham and onion. Blend French dressing, mustard and caraway seeds. Add dressing to cheese mixture, mixing until blended. For best flavor, cover and refrigerate several hours or overnight. Spread buns with butter or margarine. Spread filling on bottom half of each bun. Cover with tomato slices and close buns. Place in 8-inch square pan and cover with foil (or sandwiches may be wrapped individually in foil). Heat in moderate oven (350 degrees) 15 to 20 minutes or until cheese is melted. Makes 8 sandwiches.

Muffins are always delicious with soups and salads.

PEANUT BUTTER MUFFINS

2 cups sifted enriched flour
2 tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons chunk - style peanut butter
1 egg, beaten
1 cup milk
3 tablespoons melted shortening or oil

Sift together flour, sugar, baking powder and salt. Cut or rub in peanut butter until mixture is crumbly. Blend egg, milk and shortening or oil. Add liquid to flour mixture, mixing only until flour is moistened. Fill greased muffin cups ⅔ full. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees) 20 to 25 minutes or until golden brown. Makes 12 medium muffins.

NOTE: If you don't sift flour, and in the absence of other directions, spoon flour directly from the container into a dry measuring cup, level it off, then remove two level tablespoonfuls, according to USDA recommendations.

1 teaspoon vanilla
2 eggs

FILLING

1½ pints of whipping cream
3 tablespoons granulated sugar
½ cup mashed peaches

Place shortening in bowl. Sift together flour, sugars, baking powder, and salt into bowl. Add ¾ cup milk and vanilla. Beat 2 minutes at medium speed on electric mixer. Scrape bowl and beaters. Add remaining ½ cup milk and eggs. Beat for 2 additional minutes at medium speed. Scrape bowl and beat-

This 'n That

The nation's health bill is nearing $33 billion a year, an average of $700 for each family. The Social Security Administration says this includes $28.6 billion paid out for personal health care, the other $4 4 billion for research and related fields.

The 1963 cranberry crop is estimated at 1.3 million barrels. This means plenty of cranberries — both fresh and processed — for every need. Of this year's total crop, almost half of it comes from Massachusetts, the leading cranberry producing state in the nation. Second cranberry growing state is Wisconsin with almost one-third of the 1963 crop coming from it. New Jersey, Washington, and Oregon are other cranberry producing states

Fluffing Of Carpet Or Rug Is Normal

Your carpet or rug isn't falling apart when you notice it fluffing. This is normal for carpets and rugs Fluffing takes place when a rug sheds lint that has been left in the fabric. Carpet yarn is made of various lengths of fibers. When pile loops are cut, some short ends are left in the fabric So during the first few months you have your rug or carpet, it sheds this lint as it works to the surface But, this isn't a carpet defect and it won't affect the wear or appearance of the carpet

ers. Pour equal amounts of batter into two 9-inch cake pans that have been rubbed with shortening and floured. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) about 30 minutes.

FILLING: Whip cream with sugar. Combine 1 cup of the whipped cream with mashed peaches. Spread mixture between cake layers. Frost sides and top with remaining whipped cream. Decorate top of cake with peach slices, if desired.

Use this topping as a frosting for your favorite loaf cake:

COCONUT BRITTLE CAKE TOPPING

½ cup brown sugar, firmly packed
¼ cup butter, melted
¼ cup light cream
½ cup flaked coconut
¼ cup chopped nutmeats
1 cup cocoa sweetened toasted rice cereal (Cocoa Krispies)

Combine sugar, butter and cream. Stir in coconut, nutmeats and cereal Spread topping over warm cake. Place about 3 inches from hot broiler unit until mixture browns, about 2 minutes. Sufficient to top one 13 x 9-inch cake or two 8-inch or 9-inch squares or round cake layers.

HARVEST PIE

1 cup cooked or canned pumpkin
1 cup apple sauce
½ cup light brown sugar
½ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons cinnamon
1½ teaspoons nutmeg
½ teaspoon ground cloves
4 eggs
¼ cup milk
½ cup heavy cream
1 9-inch unbaked pastry shell

Combine pumpkin, apple sauce, sugar, salt and spices. Beat eggs; add to apple sauce mixture. Scald milk and cream; add slowly, mixing well. Pour into 9-inch pastry shell. Bake in hot oven, 425 degrees, 45 to 50 minutes, or until inserted knife comes out clean. Cool. If desired, garnish with whipped cream just before serving.

● Have You Heard?

Carpeting on stairs gets the heaviest blows and hardest wear on edges of steps. One way to protect the carpeting is to lay it with an extra foot of length folded under against one or two risers at the top of the stairs. When you think the carpet on the stair edges needs a rest, you can shift it down an inch or two. But do the shifting just before — not after — the carpeting shows wear. You can make several shifts before you'll need new carpeting. As you make these shifts, the excess carpet at the foot of the stairs will fold under against the lowet riser.

Another way to protect an underlay of padding — heavier than what you use for other areas — and give particular attention to the stair steps and edges.

Reminders For Cooking Potatoes

Potatoes cooked in their jackets are richest in vitamin and mineral content. But, if you must pare them, keep the parings thin and cook the potatoes as soon as possible after paring. Cook in as little water as possible and use the cooking liquid in soups and gravies. When you do this, you get full advantage of the minerals and flavor in the liquid.

potatoes in boiling water. And when the water has reached boiling, reduce the heat to just bubbling, — never violently boil a potato. Boiling cooks the outside before the inside and by the time the inside is tender the outside is overcooked. The smaller the pieces, the quicker they cook So if you're in a hurry, cut potatoes into halves, quarters, the cooking temperature.

High Heat Makes Cheese Stringy

Keep the heat low when cooking cheese, advises Louise Hamilton, Penn State extension nutrition specialist. High heat or cooking too long will make cheese tough and stringy. Cheese needs just enough heat to melt and blend with other ingredients

Farm Women To Entertain At Moravian Home

Plans to entertain the guests at the Moravian Home were made at the meeting of the Society of Farm Women No. 1 held on Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Willis Bucher, Lititz R2. The organization will present a program at 2:30 p.m. and entertain the guests to dinner on December 7th.

Jack Tracy, warden of the Lancaster County Prison was the guest speaker. The program included several numbers by 4-H girls. Margaret Grube presented a vocal solo; Carol Murray, a piano solo; Judy and Shirley Buckwalter played musical instruments.

Ten dollars was contributed to muscular dystrophy. A report was given of the sewing the members did at the General Hospital recently.

Thirty-two members and friends attended; Mrs. Abram Bollinger, the president, was in charge of the meeting and Mrs. C. H. Nissley led the devotions, and Mrs. Guy Reidenbaugh was cohostess.

Farm Women 7 Hold Luncheon

Society of Farm Women 7, Paradise, met for a birthday luncheon honoring its 42nd anniversary. The event was held on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Abram Groff, Mount Joy R1. Eighty-two members and guests attended.

Mrs. Aaron Denlinger, president, presided at a short business session. Mrs. Kenneth Eshleman, immediate past county president, spoke to the group. Mrs. Barbara Denlinger was chairman of the luncheon committee. Prizes were won by Mrs. Mary Mowery and Mrs. Agnes King.

Mrs. Paul James Urban, Brooklyn, N. Y., presented a lecture on "Our American Story." It was an audio-visual presentation of colored slides of period plates produced in England and the United States by the famous potters. An exhibit of 20 plates highlighted the session.

The next meeting will be a Christmas session at the home of Mrs. Mary Johnson, Willow Street, on Saturday, Dec. 14.

Farm Women 25 Install Officers

Farm Women Society 25 installed officers at a recent meeting in the home of Mrs. Sterling Elmer, Lancaster R6.

Officers installed were Mrs. Elmer, president; Mrs. Elsie Graybill, vice president; Mrs. Ruth Groff, secretary; Mrs. Helen Metz, treasurer.

Mrs. Elmer appointed the following committee chairmen for the year: Mrs. Jean Brenesen, program; Mrs. Edith Sher-

Crop Designates Collection Areas

The week of November 16 through 27 has been designated "Harvest Week" by the local Christian Overseas Relief Program (CROP).

Areas in different parts of the county will be designated for collection of corn during the week. The corn will be processed at the area and sold for cash, according to the Reverend Murray L. Wagner, publicity chairman Specified areas for corn collection will be announced at a later date, he added.

No corn collected will be sent overseas, but all receipts for the corn will be used to process government foods and ship them to areas of need throughout the world

The Reverend Wagner said that some enthusiastic contributors are already asking for directions to the collection areas. He estimated that ten dollars would deliver more than one and one half tons of essential food directly to consumers by the volunteers who "await this evidence of Lancaster County's true thanksgiving."

The Rev. Mr. Wagner pointed out that checks also may be directed to CROP or sent to CROP county treasurer, Norman Bowers, Landisville National Bank, or to the Lancaster County Council of Churches, 129 E. Orange St

Although sponsored by the Council of Churches, CROP is being enthusiastically accepted by non-member denominations and by the Mennonite Central Committee, the Rev. Mr. Wagner said.

Large trucks will be located in each specified area to handle contributions of corn and Nelson Weaver has volunteered several for the purpose.

The Rev. Mr. Wagner said that questions or comments on the program may be directed to the Rev. Edward Steiner, Paradise, chairman of the Lancaster County CROP board, or William Shenk, Lancaster R6. Final plans were made for the collection of corn and cash at a meeting with area supervisors this week at the home of Shenk.

Farm Women 2 Make Donations

Society of Farm Women 2 met in the home of Mrs. Andrew Low, Manheim R2. Mrs Paul Herneisen was cohostess.

Devotions were led by Mrs. Earl Petticoffer. Each member gave a scripture verse in response to roll call. The group contributed to muscular dystrophy, for the speaker at the Christmas meeting to be held Friday at Hostetter's banquet hall, and for two local families.

The following committees were named· Mrs. Andrew Low, Mrs Grace Miller, Mrs. Roy Shelly, Mrs Marlin Hosler, banquet committee; Mrs Florence Oberholtzer and Mrs Esther Petticoffer, refreshment chairmen for next month's meeting, which will be a Christmas party for the children and will be held at Mrs Ronald Gordley's home in Lititz.

A white elephant sale was held. Refreshments were served.

DO YOU KNOW HOW MUCH MILK YOUR COWS CAN REALLY GIVE?

A cow is a factory. She eats grass, hay, silage, grain and Wayne Feeds. She makes milk. Each cow-factory has a certain bred-in capacity. When Bossy's assembly line isn't running at full capacity, she isn't making as much money for you as she should. ■ The way to find out if she's really running at full capacity is to put more feed in and see if you get more milk out. FEED HER ACCORDING TO WHAT SHE COULD GIVE TOMORROW, instead of what she gave yesterday. ■ Wayne can show you how to balance these larger feed intakes so that your cows can handle them. You feed the rumen bacteria too, so they can work harder and digest more roughage. ■ See us now for the Wayne Program that will work for you... choose from these quality Wayne Feeds... 4-H Committee Is Organized

Stanley Musselman, Quarryville, this week was elected president of a "4-H Development" committee formed recently.

The committee will be charged with the responsibility of studying and recommending ways to make use of a sum of money recently made available by the Pennsylvania Bureau of Markets to rural youth groups within the state.

The basic purpose of the grant, according to the County Agent's staff, is to broaden and strengthen youth work in the Commonwealth It may not be used to replace any existing funds or sources of support currently used in county 4-H programs.

Other officers elected are vice president, Mrs. Robert Hess, Strasburg R1; secretary, Mrs Landis C Myer, New Holland R1, and treasurer, Melvin Long, Lititz R3.

The state fund has made available a sum of $2,000 for each county which complys with the requirements.

Ag. Yearbook About Housing

The Department of Agriculture announced this week publication of the 1963 Yearbook of Agriculture, a far-ranging examination of the effects of urbanization and industrialization on many aspects of American life.

Entitled A PLACE TO LIVE, the 608-page book cites a need for discussion, plans, and action by all Americans regarding the use of resources, public services in communities, rural redevelopment, educational and economic opportunities for farmers and others whom technological changes have put at a disadvantage, the growing demand for outdoor recreation, urban and suburban sprawl into farmlands, parks and open spaces, the functions of governing bodies, the management of water and air pollution, and much more.

Some of the specific topics, which indicate the scope, are Multiple uses of forests and other resources, agriculture in the national economy, values of farmland, farming on the urban fringe, community leadership, the small town, rural housing, finances in communities, technical services in planning, conservation in the suburbs, planning and zoning, highways garden centers and clubs, family and part-time farms, and examples of solutions to problems brought about by growth and change.

The Yearbook of Agriculture are published under annual Congressional appropriations. Distribution of the books is mainly by Members of Congress.

Copies of A PLACE TO LIVE can be bought at $3 00 each from the Superintendent of Documents, U S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D C. 20402

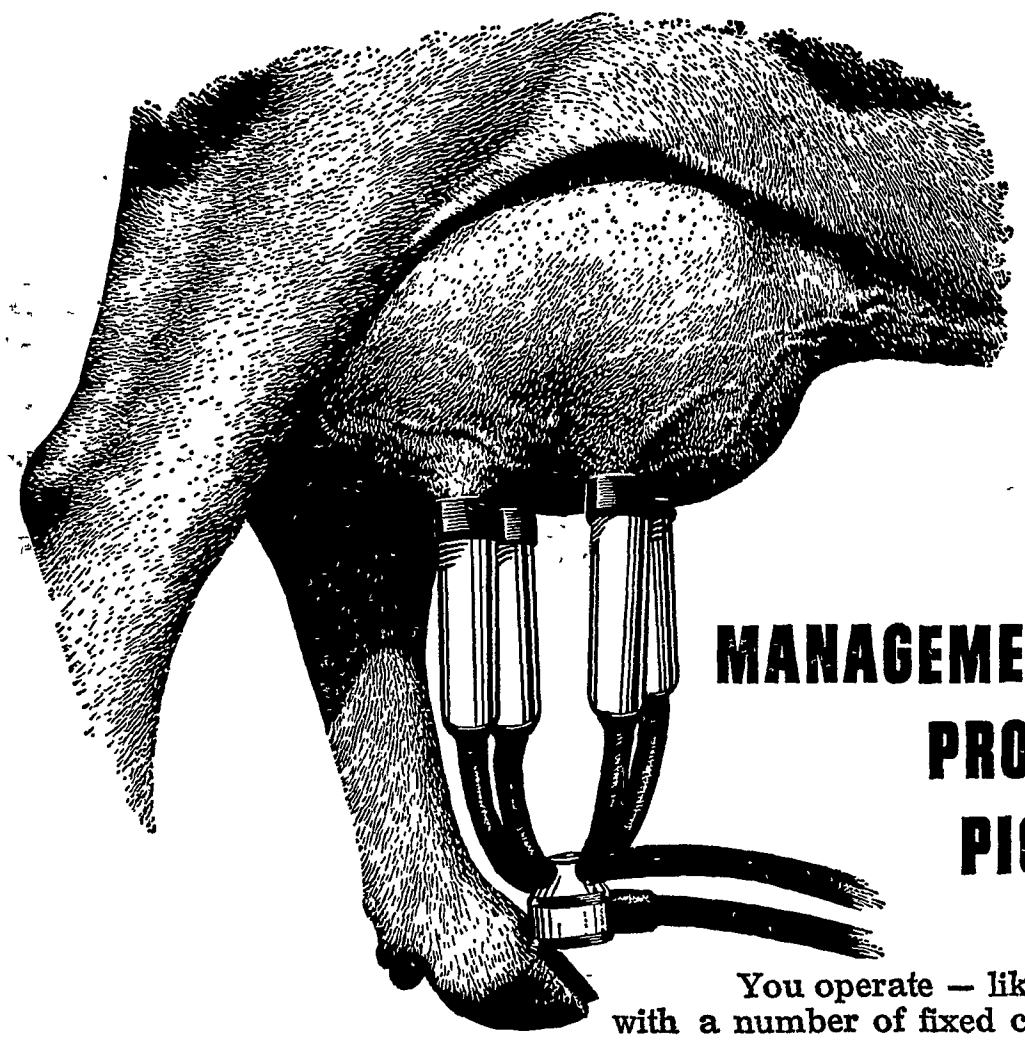
Don't Store Eggs in Heated Rooms

Egg producers should find a better place than a heated basement to store eggs during the winter, says Carl O. Dossin, Penn State extension poultry specialist.



Business Man
MR. ~~DAIRYMAN.~~

BUILD YOUR MANAGEMENT-FOR-PROFIT PROGRAM AROUND PIONEER FEEDS...

You operate — like every other dairyman — with a number of fixed costs. Whether your herd-average is high or low, your investment in land, buildings, equipment and stock, and your costs for replacements, light, power, insurance, taxes and labor remain the same.

So the way to manage for profit is to improve the performance of each cow.

Chances are, you've been upgrading your herd by improved breeding and culling. But your big profit opportunity lies in a feeding program that will help you milk out your cows to the very limit of their bred-in capabilities.

Today's cows are capable of high-level production — often as much as 2,000 lbs. more milk per cow per year than they're producing. PIONEER feeds and feeding programs can help you get those extra tons of milk from your cows. Challenge your herd. Feed the PIONEER way ... find out how good your herd really is.

Stop in and see us. We'll help you develop an all-around management-for-profit program that will put profit dollars in your pocket.

Dr. William Byer, nutrition research specialist for Wayne feeds will be the featured speaker at a dairy meeting on Monday evening, November 18 at 7:30 p.m. in the Lancaster Poultry Center.

Dr. Williams, in charge of dairy research work for the company, will discuss all phases of heavy grain feeding to dairy cows including the effect on the dairyman's pocketbook

Area Man At Equip't School

R. H. Penner, Leacock territory manager for New Idea Farm Equipment in this area, has just returned from a three-day series of meetings and demonstrations held in southwestern Indiana to acquaint New Idea's men with all facets of the UNI system of self-propelled corn and small grain harvesting equipment. The sessions were attended by sales executives and territory managers from branches throughout the nation.

Penner participated in sales planning and information exchange meetings relating to the UNI line, and attended actual on farm demonstrations in which implements for a variety of harvesting jobs were interchanged on the same power unit These interchangeable implements for a single power unit comprise the UNI system

Look at a Package

To do a better job of food shopping, take a good look at the package before you put it in your shopping cart, suggests Harlod Neigh, Penn State extension consumer economics specialist. Ask yourself if you can use the economy size package without letting the savings evaporate in the big box. Be sure you're willing to pay extra for specially designed packages. As you look at the package, compare the weight and price with other packages.

Deadlines Set For Farm Show

HARRISBURG — Approaching deadlines for entries and keen competition for limited space have been spurring a "rush business" by prospective exhibitors at the 48th Pennsylvania State Farm Show next Jan 13-17

Horace L. Mann, director, said the biggest demand was coming from dairy farmers, many of whose cattle have been turned back in recent years because of lack of space

Now nearing its own half-century mark, the Farm Show will feature golden anniversaries by two of its member organizations.

The two organizations, the Pennsylvania Society of Farm Women and the Pennsylvania Holstein Association, will celebrate 50th anniversaries Both will have special programs, according to V A Houston, State College, who reported for the dairy group, and Mrs. Elmo Mentzer, Carlisle, who represented the farm women.

Most farm entries close Nov 18, final day for draft horses, breeding sheep, open class market lambs and dressed carcass lambs, swine, beef cattle, dairy cattle, most poultry and Folk Dance Festival (4-H market lambs and poultry bread meets, turkeys, 4-H capons, vocational poultry, and broiler and roaster chickens have until Dec 7)

Other closing dates Nov 30, 4-H insect exhibits, Dec 2, 4-H and FFA tractor driving, and collective apiary exhibits, Dec. 14, horse and mule pulling contest, Dec 20 producer-dealer quality eggs, Dec 28, 4-H sheep blocking and grooming, Jan 6, 4-H potato grading, Jan 10, individual apiary exhibits, Jan 11, small grains, potatoes, hay, grass silage, tobacco, wool, baby chicks and poults, 4-H and vocational corn, and home economics, Jan 12, apples, edible nuts, sugar maple products, Christmas trees, dressed turkeys, and eggs other than producer-dealer classes, Jan. 13 (opening day of the show), vegetables

State Agriculture Secretary Leland H Bull, whose department conducts the big indoor farm event, said the 1964 theme will be "Forward with Agribusiness, Pennsylvania's Major Industry"

Fulton Grange Committees Are Appointed

Fulton Grange No. 66 was honored at the recent State Grange convention held at Erie, Pa by receiving a $50 savings bond for their Community Service during the year.

Mrs Delmar Spencer's knitted socks won first place in the needlework contest and will be entered in the National Grange contest. Mrs Charles Reed's oil painting and Mrs W. Harold Graybeal's charcoal drawing placed third in the State art contest

A debate "Shall Pennsylvania have a Constitutional Convention" was the main feature of the program at the last meeting of Fulton Grange. Affirmative speakers were: Charles Tindall Sr. and Miss Mabel Brabson and Negative speakers were: Mrs. Delmar Spencer and Norman Wood. Mrs. Ralph Armstrong had an Amulet and J. Robert Reed gave a reading. The Lecturer, Charles McSparran, conducted a game.

Philip Giffing was installed as a member of the Executive Committee. The Master, Gyles Brown announced his committees for this year: Home Economics Committee: Mrs Charles Long, Mrs James Mullen, Mrs. Harold Alexander, Mrs. Joseph Sinclair and Mrs. Wilmer Carroll. Youth Committee: Mr. and Mrs. Ray McSparran, Mr and Mrs. George Lamborn and Mr. and Mrs Richard Jackson Legislative Committee: Mrs Delmar Spencer, Thomas Galbreath and John Rush Juvenile Grange Committee: Mrs Charles Tindall and Mrs Ambrose Giffing Community Progress Committee: Miss Marie Murphy, Miss Jennette McCummings, Clair Murphy and Mrs Ambrose Giffing Hospitality Committee Mrs. Ralph Armstrong and Mrs Dennis Hess. Membership: Mr and Mrs Stanley Stauffer Jr. and David Wissler.

The Grange voted a donation to the Lancaster Co Chapter of the Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America

The November 11 meeting featured a Corn contest in charge of Theodore Beck and a pumpkin and apple pie contest in charge of the Home Economics Committee. Mrs. Donald McSparran gave a talk on Interior Decorating and Thomas Bradley spoke on Fire Prevention. Mrs. Theodore Beck and Clair Murphy sang a duet and Mrs. Stanley Stauffer Jr. conducted games.

● Inter-State

with reports of officers and management Wednesday (Nov. 20), followed by a banquet for 600 members and friends of the dairy industry at 6:15 p.m.

The banquet speaker will be Dr Nicholas Nyaradi, director of the School of International Studies at Bradley University, Peoria, Ill, whose subject is "Free Enterprise or Disaster." Dr. Kenneth Hood, assistant secretary, American Farm Bureau Federation, will be toastmaster Entertainment will be provided by Mary Burgess Madden, mezzo-soprano soloist, and a string quartet from Curtis Institute of Music. Mr. O. H Hoffman, Jr, retiring general manager, will be honored at the banquet.

President Carter will open Wednesday's business sessions with his report to the delegates. Reports by Clara Gallagher, secretary; Florence Schultz, treasurer; Golden W. Davis, management assistant; Paul E. Hand, economist; and A. Evans Kephart, counsel, will occupy the morning session. In the afternoon, Inter-State manager James E. Honan will discuss the Cooperative's activities in the past year and its future prospects. J. Lin. Huber, chairman of the Pennsylvania Milk Control Commission, also will speak.

Smoked Pork Butt

A smoked pork shoulder butt, sometimes called "cottage roll", is always a good buy, points out Catherine Love, Penn State consumer economics extension specialist. This compact piece of boneless, rolled pork is economical, easy to prepare, and similar to smoked ham in flavor and appearance. A boneless pork butt usually weighs 2 to 3 pounds.

THREE-BOTTOM SPINNER PLOW for D-17 Power

Now you can have the performance of an Allis-Chalmers 80-Series plow in a big 3-bottom spinner model designed specifically for the Allis-Chalmers D-17 Tractor. This new, deep-working plow is designed for depths down to 14 inches. It is available with special deep-plowing bottoms. Plow is revolved at the end of a new vane-type hydraulic activator. Plow rotates on bronze bushings. Rear gauge wheel automatically positions itself for both right- and left-hand bottoms. Furrow gauge wheels control depth of front bottoms. Plow is available either with SNAP-COUPLER hitch or category two 3-point hitch. Bottoms are protected by shear bolt action or by optional spring-trip beams. A similar 2 bottom spinner model is available for D-15 Tractors.

SNAP COUPLER is an Allis Chalmers trademark.

Purina Cow Chow D helps you get UP TO A TON MORE MILK PER COW

Purina Cow Chow D was developed by the cows in the Purina Research Farm dairy herd. It took years of painstaking research to develop Cow Chow D, the ration that has the milk-making power to help cows give up to 2,000 lbs. more milk per year. If you're not feeding Purina Cow Chow D to your dairy cows now, come see us. We'll be happy to tell you more about it. Try Purina Cow Chow D—prove to yourself that Purina feeding can cost you less.
